

JUST US

Definitive in societal failure a condemned soul lost forever.

Hope lost in a box of self-loathing.

Trapped in a cell never knowing or believing.

Agonies of what could have been; a future of failure from a past sin.

Do you not fucking care your society, your tears full of hypocrisy destroying all lives saying justice is served.

When the reality is, nothing is right, restoration is impossible you can't return a life.

Justice system the scales are broke the bitch is blind the 99% are doing the time.

The 1% make the laws and are immune the almighty dollar sealed the bitches doom.

Justice is a sepulcher bleached white but inside lays the putrid stench of THE TRUTH.

Death in a rotten hopeless hell filled from floor to ceiling with body upon body the 99% that is just us.
