

James Petty, H-98900
WordsUncaged Class Submission

“A World without Prison”

Imagine a place where imprisonment doesn't exist, a place where the profoundness of freedom is the basis of life.

Where despite all circumstances faced, one is never encaged. A place where, economically, we're all the same...where around the world, every denomination and separatist groups works together to better the lives of all mankind.

Where no one's views and perspectives are better than the next.

Where punishment is replaced with correction and life skills are taught, while solutions to the worlds many traumas is the focus towards a better tomorrow.

A place that's complete with love, kindness, patience, and understanding, where one's nationality nor color has no place.

Where being of service to others is the way of life...just as the creator loved us, it's the love for one another that's the betterment of humanity, without encaging ourselves through separatism and categorization, but yet living as a unit that believes in prosperity for all.