“Life After Death” (5/26/18)

What do you think happens when someone dies?

The question everyone is so perplexed over

Since the beginning of man and logic

It's the wonder of the philosopher and the lake of fire for the sinner

And paradise for he who is saved through religion

I might just say

It's like a television set

Press the on/off button when the TV is on

The TV turns off and the screen is completely black

What do I think happens when someone dies?

Well, life after death

Might just be like a television set.
