“Own’s Beat”

Two different beats out there,
In this big world,
Not knowing one another rhythm,
Not knowing if one would ever meet,
Might never cross paths,
Their beats would be recognizable,
To each other,
First goes a glimpse,
A question of what if,
Cohere is what they want,
To be stronger and louder,
Excited and Energizes,
Wanting to entwine,
Be instinct as one,
The closer they are,
The stronger they get,
Knowing each other beats so well,
They decide to make their own beat,
Practicing after practicing,
Enjoying every moment,
Prefecting it,
They are filled with joy,
9 months later their own is born,
Brought in this big world.
