

Eternal Wars #1

Broken bones: hands, feet, ribs, chest, skull, jaw, chin, and back.

Drilling of teeth withstood without aid of anesthetics.

Stabbings in neck and leg.

These pains did not last.

The pain of betrayal, by a loved one, still will not go away.

The effect of the lies told, and believed, remain open sores in mind and future.

Still war wages within.

Resistance builds to desire for harm and mayhem to prevail upon love and trust's assassins. The war wages, even now, as these words develop on pages.
