

You've Got To Believe

Since before the thought to conceive,
The required operative has been "you've got to believe."
Belief will serve as your sword, shield, and steed,
You connect with unlimited power, when you believe.
Belief will be an extra arm in your sleeve.
Belief will carry and accompany you when this world you leave.
As long as you believe, it will be hard for others to deceive,
What you experience will direct you to relief.
Some will come to act as a thief.
Only you can betray your belief.
Consider these words as to your values you cleave,
The most important is "You've got to believe."

R. M. Mosley IV