

Cristian Diaz, AY-0115
WordsUncaged Submission
(Poem)

“You Said I’m Reckless” (3/17/18)

You said I’m reckless
Shamelessly immoral and wild

And recklessly extravagant and wasteful

Flying like a Junebug
Call me nocturnal

Mumbling songs like a hummingbird, I don’t
Just stay in one spot when I flap my
Wings

She called me reckless and my pride grew

Transformed into the hornet I drink down

Just a little more my pride grew

Too much pride I’m told.