

The Eternal Wars #2

Truth at War against the Lie and Betrayals.

Peace in contention with Rage.

Losers win immortality and winners become numbers on a page.

Facts embed in Time. Manipulations conceal born lies.

Lusts weaken Trusts. Not everything is well.

Co-operatives excel, working for wards of Hell, assaulting spirits and souls; Perjuries told.

Continuous contradictions, compress the living experience, challenging sophist and slough alike.

Rhetorical analogies re-present varying modalities, request presence of mind without thought, influence determination of realities.

Truth continues to war against lies and betrayals. Each claim identity of excelsior while excusing delay. Bloodshed is not red, but there is no play.

Peace refuses submission to Rage, knowing the consequence will deny existence to the sage.

Immortality a triumph neither known nor experienced. Still, by accounting, the numbers appear on the pages. Elders seldom notice wisdom of youth. Undeniable factors demonstrating continuity of sleuth.

Muggery and skullduggery, fallacious and outrageous, life must go on, living is contagious.
